1. INTRODUCTION

Our Past and Present

The Department of Economics was one of the original departments of the University of Delhi, which was founded in 1922. For many years, it comprised only the economics teachers of the colleges of the university, until the appointment of Professor V.K.R.V. Rao as Professor of Economics in 1942. The Delhi School of Economics was set up in 1949 as an institution for advanced studies and research in economics, on the initiative of the Founder-Director Professor Rao, with Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru as its President. Since then, the Department has been at the forefront of post-graduate teaching and research in economics. At present, it is one of the three constituent departments of the Delhi School of Economics, the other two being Geography and Sociology.

The Department of Economics (henceforth, the Department) supports Masters, M.Phil. and Doctoral programmes in Economics, which draw a huge number of applicants from all over the country and many from abroad. These programmes have a strong theoretical and quantitative focus with an emphasis on empirical applications. Their hallmark is the dynamic curriculum offered, which is continuously reviewed and updated in line with the latest developments in the subject.

The Department is proud of its many past faculty members who have made significant contributions to the economics discipline. Foremost among these are the first three Heads of the Department, V.K.R.V. Rao, B.N. Ganguli and K.N. Raj, who went on to become Vice Chancellors of Delhi University. The foundations they laid down were built upon by their successors, K.A. Naqvi, Sukhamoy Chakravarty, A.L. Nagar, Mrinal Datta Chaudhuri, Dharma Kumar, K.L. Krishna, S.B. Gupta, Suresh D. Tendulkar, Om Prakash, Badal Mukhopadhyay, V. N. Pandit, K. Sundaram, Pulin B. Nayak, Partha Sen, Santosh C. Panda, B. L. Pandit and Pami Dua. Other distinguished scholars who have served on the faculty include Pranab Bardhan, Kaushik Basu, Jagdish Bhagwati, Bhaskar Dutta, Raj Krishna, Prasanta Pattanaik, Tapan Raychaudhuri, Sanjay Subrahmanyam, and Nobel laureate Amartya Sen. Many of them were nominated as Fellows of the Econometric Society, a much coveted honour in the field of Economics, making them members of a very prestigious international body of scholars.

The Department is also proud of its numerous alumni who have gone on to distinguished academic careers, including many Fellows of the Econometric Society such as Dilip Abreu, Bhaskar Dutta, Gita Gopinath, Vijay Krishna, Tapan Mitra, Dilip Mookherjee, Arunava Sen (who was also awarded the prestigious Infosys Prize), and Rohini Somanathan. Department alumni can be found in most major Economics, Business and Public Policy departments worldwide, very often as members of the faculty, and even more commonly, as doctoral students.

Apart from purely academic distinctions, members of the Department have contributed to the task of institution-building in various capacities. The founder, Professor Rao, went on to become the Vice Chancellor of Delhi University, served as the Education minister in the central government, and also founded other important academic institutions. Another former member of the Department, Professor Manmohan Singh, served as Governor of the Reserve Bank of India, Finance Minister and later Prime Minister of India. Numerous other members of the Department, including K.N. Raj, Raj Krishna, P.N. Dhar, Sukhamoy Chakravarty, Suresh Tendulkar, Kaushik Basu, T.C.A. Anant and Pami Dua served the nation as high-level economic officials or advisers to the government and international bodies, as members of the Planning Commission, and as regulators or members of important government Commissions and committees. Others have served as public intellectuals and as public-spirited activists.

While the Department's alumni have traditionally found jobs and attained considerable eminence in academia, the civil services, NGOs, international organizations and the media, the number of alumni in finance, consultancy and other areas of the private sector has grown manifold in the past two decades. Further details about recent placements are given below.

In 1965, the Department was the first economics department in the country to be recognized by the University Grants Commission as a Centre for Advanced Studies, a distinction that it continues to hold to the present day. The present Department is building on this evolving tradition and continues to perform the functions of academic research, teaching and public service. Current faculty have published their research in leading Indian and international professional journals, and have won prestigious international and Indian awards and fellowships. Their specializations span a wide range of areas in economics (see <http://econdse.org/faculty/>). For many years, the Department has been ranked the highest amongst university economics departments in India by RePEc (Research Papers in Economics), a global electronic archive of working papers and publications in Economics and Finance (<http://ideas.repec.org/top/top.india.html>). The Department ranks highest in India, and 146th worldwide, in the QS 2022 subject ranking for Economics and Econometrics (<https://www.topuniversities.com/university-rankings/university-subject-rankings/2022/economics-econometrics>).

Apart from pursuing their individual research programmes, several members of the faculty also serve on committees of various government departments and public sector organizations, and on the governing bodies or academic councils of important academic institutions.

The Department maintains a lively interaction with the Indian and international economics profession. Over the years, it has hosted a long list of distinguished scholars as visitors and speakers, including Nobel laureates such as Jan Tinbergen, John Hicks, Kenneth Arrow, Milton Friedman, James Tobin, Lawrence Klein, Amartya Sen, John Nash, Eric Maskin, Thomas

Another regular event is the annual Winter School, which brings in distinguished scholars from India and abroad to give a set of expository lectures on frontier areas of research, and to interact with young research scholars in a workshop-style setting. The list of distinguished invited speakers for the Winter School in recent years includes (apart from some of those named above): Ken Binmore, John Moore, Herve Moulin, Nobuhiro Kiyotaki, Andrew Chesher, Esther Duflo, Abhijit Banerjee, Maitreesh Ghatak, William Thomson, Charles Manski, John Roemer, Dilip Abreu, Janet Currie, Andrew Foster, Bina Agarwal, Scott Taylor, Mukesh Eswaran, Imran Rasul, Stephen Morris, Ariel Rubinstein, Glenn Loury, Gita Gopinath, Avinash Dixit, Sanjeev Goyal, Jorgen Weibull, Timothy van Zandt, Manuel Arellano, John Leahy, Christopher Udry, George Mailath, V.V. The distinguished speakers at the 2021 Winter School were Tayfun Sonmez (Boston College), Michael Woodford (Columbia), Whitney Newey (MIT) and Mark Rosenzweig (Yale).

The Department organized the Asian Meetings of the (International) Econometric Society in 2012. It also organized a conference on 'Indian Economy: Issues and Perspectives' in 2013, as part of the golden jubilee celebrations of The Indian Econometric Society (TIES), the pre-eminent economics society in India. A special conference was organized in 2017 to felicitate Kaushik Basu on his 65th birthday. Distinguished speakers included Avinash Dixit, Joseph Stiglitz, and Manmohan Singh. In 2018, the Department hosted the prestigious Asia-Pacific Innovation Conference, which was held in India for the first time. In recent years, acting as a lead institution, the Department has taken part in the activities of the BRICS Network University, an initiative undertaken by the national governments of Brazil, India, China and South Africa.

Our Journal and Working Papers

The Department houses a highly-regarded biannual journal, the Indian Economic Review, now published by Springer, which publishes peer-reviewed scholarly articles in diverse areas of economics. Over the years, it has featured the work of leading economists including several Nobel laureates. Past contributors to IER include George Akerlof, Pranab Bardhan, Kaushik Basu, William Baumol, Jagdish Bhagwati, Sukhamoy Chakravarty, Mrinal Datta Chaudhuri, Harry Johnson, James Mirrlees, Lawrence Klein, Kala Krishna, Anne Krueger, A.L. Nagar, William Nordhaus, Prasanta Pattanaik, K.N. Raj, Joan Robinson, Amartya Sen, T.N. Srinivasan, Nicholas Stern, Suresh Tendulkar, Jan Tinbergen, James Tobin, Stephen Turnovsky, Thomas Weisskopf, to name a few. Past issues of the journal are available at JSTOR (jstor.org). There were about 75,000 downloads of IER articles in 2021. In June 2021, the tradition of an IER Annual Public Lecture was revived. The lecture titled “Persistence and transformation in economic development” was delivered by Melissa Dell, Professor of Economics at Harvard University and John Bates Clark Medal awardee in 2020. The event was live-streamed on YouTube and has been viewed by over 1650 people so far. The Department also runs a Working Paper series that publishes the research of its faculty members and visitors.

Infrastructure, Library, and Computing Facilities

Teaching and research in the Department are supported by excellent infrastructure, computing facilities and a well-stocked library. The main lecture theatre as well as all classrooms are air-conditioned and equipped with audio-visual facilities. In 2017, the lecture theatre was interconnected to two other classrooms with an enhanced two-way interactive audio-visual system. The Ratan Tata Library houses one of the best collections in economics and related social disciplines. It has a collection of over 333,000 books and bound journals, and subscribes to more than 230 academic journals. Many more journals are accessible on-line from the Delhi University Library System (DULS) from terminals in the library as well as in the Department’s computer labs. (See Section 3 below for more information on the RTL.)

The Department has separate computer labs for Master’s and research students. The labs have about 45 latest quad-core i7 based desktops with updated antivirus / malware protection. Here students receive training in data analysis and economic modeling using specialized econometric packages such as STATA, Mathematica, Scientific Workplace, E-views, Shazam, Microfit, Gauss, RATS (Real Analysis of Time Series), NLOGIT, Rstudio, etc. Students have access to high-speed internet through these desktops to aid their research. The computer lab also provides printing facilities to research students through a network printer. Computer labs provide access to various offline and online databases such as NSSO (National Sample Survey Organization), NFHS (National Family Health Survey), Census data, ASI (Annual Survey of Industries), NAS (National Accounts Statistics), CMIE Prowess database on companies, CMIE Consumer Pyramids Dx (CPdx) of CMIE, EPW Research Foundation Indian Time Series, and indiastat.com. Online access to journal archives such as jstor.org, sciencedirect.com, etc. is also available to students through Delhi University’s internet. Laptops are made available to students for presentations. The entire building is Wi-Fi enabled so that students can use their own laptops to access the internet.

The Department website (econdse.org) provides information about faculty specializations and research; admissions procedures; recommended readings for courses; notices for upcoming seminars, Conferences, Working Papers and Public Lectures; and links to useful academic websites. The Department's website is an important source of interaction between the Department and the students. The website is based on Wordpress CMS (Content Management System) and is actively updated on a daily basis. Faculty can post and update the information on the website themselves. Here students have online access to the course material, lecture slides, and weekly seminar announcements. Course-wise folders, containing course material, are also accessible from each desktop through a network drive hosted on a powerful in-house server. There is a separate study room for research students with air conditioning, connectivity to the central LAN and Wi-Fi access, and a dedicated printer.

2. M.A. IN ECONOMICS

The Department offers a Master of Arts (M.A.) programme in Economics, which reflects new developments in the discipline. The curriculum has a strong theoretical and quantitative focus with all students being trained in the use of computers and statistical software that they find useful in their professional careers in academia, research institutions, government, and industry. The M.A. programme is semester-based and includes a large number of elective courses which allows students to pursue their varied interests and to specialize in their fields of choice.

Academic Calendar

The Academic Calendar for the M.A. Economics programme for 2022-23 will be as per the University Calendar, according to which classes will start as per University guideline.

Course Structure

The M.A. in Economics is a two-year full-time programme with each year comprising the summer and winter semesters. It consists of fifteen courses, of which six are compulsory core courses and nine are elective/optional courses. Every student is required to complete the programme within a span period of four years of initial admission. The medium of instruction and evaluation is English.

Courses are taken in the following sequence:

Semester I:	Microeconomic Theory (001) Introductory Mathematical Economics (002) Introductory Econometrics (003)
Semester II:	Macroeconomic Theory (004) Introduction to Game Theory (005) Economic Development & Policy in India (006) One optional paper
Semester III:	Four optional papers
Semester IV:	Four optional papers

Elective/optional courses are listed in section 6 of the full 2020 handbook, available at <http://econdse.org/wp-content/uploads/MA-Handbook-1.pdf>. Only some of the listed courses will be offered. A student's choice of elective courses in each semester will be limited to those announced by the Department at the beginning of that semester. Each student is required to finalize his/her choice of the elective courses within two weeks of the start of each semester. Because of infrastructural requirements the Department may put a cap on the number of students in an elective course. In particular, econometrics optional courses may require a minimum level of performance in compulsory course EC003.

Evaluation

Examinations in all courses will be held semester-wise. A student can appear for an exam only in the semester in which the examination for that course is announced by the Department. Evaluation will be done by the instructor(s) in the concerned course, with a provision for reevaluation of the final examination. Unless otherwise specified, the division of marks will be 30 marks for internal evaluation and 70 marks for a written final examination. Internal evaluation may be based on a combination of midterm exams, term-papers, lab assignments and class attendance and class participation. The weights assigned to these components will be specified by the instructor at the beginning of the course. In all the courses, the internal assessment requirements begin from the first day of classes, and these requirements must be met as scheduled by the instructor. Note that once awarded, internal assessment marks cannot be improved, even if the student re-appears for the end-semester examination of that course. All modes of evaluation will be conducted in English.
